The New Jersey State House and Annex

Home to the executive and legislative branches of New Jersey government since 1792, the State House is an important historical and architectural monument. Visitors can tour the beautifully restored legislative portion of the building including the grand chambers and other significant spaces. In addition to the impressive art and architecture, visitors will learn about their role in a representative democracy. Hours: Free guided tours are available weekdays, 10 am–3 pm, and the first and third Saturday of the month, 12–3 pm. Reservations are required for groups of 10 or more. Call the State House Tour Office at (609) 847-3150, or visit www.njleg.state.nj.us.

The State House Annex Once home to the judicial branch, State Museum and Library, the Annex now houses legislative offices and committee rooms where public meetings are held.

This historic structure contains many interesting architectural details and commissioned artworks.

Located in the basement, the OLS Legislative Information and Bill Room provides legislative and visitor information.

Annex tours can be arranged through the State House Tour Office. Call (609) 847-3150.

The Old Barracks Museum

The Old Barracks is a historic landmark built for British troops during the French and Indian War. During the American Revolution, the Barracks housed British and Hessian soldiers and Continental troops, and served as a Continental military hospital from 1777-1783.

Historical interpreters provide an account of life during the American Revolution.

Hours: Open daily 10 am–5 pm. Admission fee. For more information, call (609) 396-1776 or visit www.barracks.org.

The New Jersey State Museum

The State Museum aims to “preserve, promote and develop knowledge and appreciation of New Jersey’s cultural, historic, artistic and scientific resources.” It contains four floors of exhibit space filled with fine art of the 19th and 20th centuries, collections of household items from the past, Native American artifacts, and a Natural History collection focusing on earth sciences. The Museum has a 150-seat planetarium and a 380-seat auditorium.

For hours, more information and group tours, call (609) 292-6464 or visit www.nj.gov/state/museum/index.html Admission is free, except for planetarium shows and special exhibits.

The State Archives

Located in the Department of State building, the State Archives serves as the official repository of all colonial and State government records of enduring historical value dating back to the late 17th century. The Archives also has New Jersey’s largest holdings of records relating to family history, deeds, and court and military records. Research materials may be used by the public.

Hours: Mon.–Fri., 8:30 am–4:30 pm. Closed Sunday and State holidays. Free admission. For more information, call (609) 292-6260.

The Battle Monument

Located at the junction of North Warren and North Broad Streets, this 150-foot monument commemorates the 1776 Battle of Trenton. Atop is a statue of George Washington. An elevator transports visitors to the top for a view of the city.

For hours and more information, call Washington Crossing State Park at (609) 737-0623.

Old Masonic Lodge and Trenton Visitors Center

Built in 1793, this building served as the meeting place for Trenton’s first Masonic lodge.

Visitors may view the original lodge room on the second floor. A Visitors Center on the first floor offers information on local attractions and sites throughout New Jersey.

Hours: Open daily, 10 am–4 pm. For more information, call (609) 777-1770 or visit www.destinationtrenton.com.

The War Memorial

Opened in 1932, the War Memorial operates as one of the top performing arts centers and conference facilities in New Jersey. Patriots Theater at the War Memorial offers a wide variety of performance events, including ballet, opera, comedy, jazz, classical, rock, country, gospel and folk.

Box office hours: Mon.–Fri., 10 am–6 pm. For event and ticket information, call (609) 984-8400.

For administrative offices, call (609) 984-8484 or visit nj.gov/state/memorial.

New Jersey World War II Memorial

Located directly across the street from the State House, New Jersey’s World War II Memorial honors and pays tribute to the courage and sacrifices of our “Greatest Generation” of citizens. The overall theme of “Victory” is expressed through sculptural elements, service markers, and story walls. Interpretive kiosks broaden the visitor experience and amphitheater seating allows for reflection.

The State Library

The State Library, affiliated with Thomas Edison State College, is a research library with a collection of over one million items. The official depository for State documents, it provides library services to State officials, employees and residents. The Library has extensive holdings in law, State history, Federal materials, political science, public administration and genealogy.
