

OLS Revenue Snapshot

FY 2018 - Through April 2018

- April Revenues Largely Stagnant. April collections for the major revenues were essentially flat in comparison to last April. As a result, aggregate growth fell to 5.9% for the first 10 months of FY 2018, identical to the necessary growth rate to achieve the Executive's revised FY 2018 year-end¹ target for major revenues. Year-to-date collections have benefitted from a surge in income tax payments and the annualization of the 2016 tax rate increase in the Petroleum Products Gross Receipts Tax which was not in effect during the early months of FY 2017. However, collections of most other major revenues trail the pace needed to attain revised targets.
- Gross Income Tax (GIT) net collections through April of $12.145 billion are running 9.1% ahead of the same period last year. April net collections were down 1.0% below last April, impacted by a $233.0 million drop (13.3%) in final payments, which was offset by a $131.9 million decrease (22.0%) in refunds and a $67.3 million (8.7%) increase in withholding payments. The components which comprise total GIT collections improved year-to-date as follows: withholding receipts were up 5.2%, final payments were up 4.9%, and estimated payments were up 10.4%, while lower refund payments (7.7% below last year) boosted net collections. The Executive's revised target assumes 7.3% growth.
- Sales Tax receipts year-to-date totaled $7.096 billion, up 1.6% from the same period² last year. April collections were 2.1% above last April, despite the reduction³ in the sales tax rate from 6.875% to 6.625% on January 1, 2018. The Executive's revised target assumes 1.0% growth above FY 2017. The target no longer includes the full $200 million anticipated from a tax modernization initiative, which has been mostly reallocated to other taxes where the initiative has impacted collections.
- Corporation Business Tax (CBT) cash collections of $1.626 billion through the first 10 months were 1.9% below the same period last fiscal year. April net receipts jumped by 14.8% as payments surged by $63.0 million and refunds fell by $7.0 million. The Executive's revised FY 2018 target assumes 2.7% growth.
- Petroleum Products Gross Receipts Tax collections¹ of $1.016 billion through April were up $451.9 million, or 80.1%, propelled by the higher tax rates under P.L.2016, c.57. State voters constitutionally dedicated the revenues to the Transportation Trust Fund.
- Transfer Inheritance revenues of $502.5 million were down 20.0% compared to last year through April. The revised year-end target assumes a decline of 18.6% from the FY 2017 level, including the phased-in impact of the multi-year elimination of the estate tax under P.L.2016, c.57.
- Realty Transfer Fee collections of $281.5 million were 5.9% higher year-over-year,⁴ falling short of the Executive's revised year-end target growth rate of 10.5%.

² April sales tax collections reflect March economic activity, as this tax is subject to a one-month payment lag.

³ FY 2018 collections are impacted by a two-step tax rate reduction under P.L.2016, c.57.

⁴ April realty collections reflect March economic activity, as counties remit fee payments to the State with a one-month lag.
